of thirteen-seven boye and six girls. When William was eight years of age his father emigrated to America and took up his residence in Toronto (then York), where he antered lusiness and by persistent industry and strict integrity, Isid the foundation of, and erected thereon a large business. William, however, did not feel drawn to the special business in which the father had embarked, and when about eighteen years of age he started from home to earn a livelihood for himself. He entered into the service of a merchant in Rochester, N. Y., and his visit to that city was fraught with the deepest interest to him, for there in 1842 he was led to see him, for there in 1842 he was led to see himself a sinner, and to accept Jessey Christ as a Saviour. For ceveral years he walked in the light, and was found ever at the work of striving, to lead others to a knowledge of the truth. But unhappily his love grow cold, and for many years he lived as most men live who seek to advance world's intenset. In machine of hive as most men live who seek to advance worldly interests. In speaking of this time, he ever expresses his regret that he allowed temporal things to take the place of spiritual, and while during these years he prospered in business and rapidly secumulated a large fortuna, still he says: "I count that much of my life has been a failure." When 28 years of age (14th April, 1847), he was united in marriage to Miss Mi rgaret Bright, and many years of happy home life was his lot, but sickness intered the home about the year 1875 and

FAREWELL LETTER.

My Dear Comrades and Friends : "

these last few weeks concerning our going away, expressing your love to us, and your devotion to the flag. Filled up as our time has been with the many things that need attention at this special time, we have not had an opportunity of answering you will our own hands, but in order to reach you all, we send a letter to you through our old and valued friend, the "Cry." Much of our time in the past has been taken up in looking forward, as it should be. This last few days, we have been looking back and remembering all the way the Lord has led us: truly it has been a marvellous way, a way full of difficulties, yet full of blessed victory, and we are sure the remembrance of all these will be as an inspiration to us in our new field.) We are also reminded of your great love and devotion to the cause, and to us, your leaders, without which, the work could not have reached to its present proportions, we need not say how deeply we appreciate your love, and how much we prize it all, and at the same time, remind you all "That inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these, ye did it unto Him." And what about the future? surely this will be glorious. We have been looking at this, and we by faith have seen the mountains brought low and the vaileys exalted, thousands sweet into the Kingdom of God, and the Canadian Wing of the great S.A., making its influence felt in every part of the world by its gifts of men and money to push forward (the Kingdom's interest. We need not ask you to take Commis-scioner Adams to your hearts, for do not the very volleys which you have given every time at the mention of his name still Fing in our ears? He is a giant among men in this Great Army, and is well able as your Joshua, to lead you up to possess the land. You can reckon that the best way to show your love to us, is to take the dear Commissioner with his dear wife and family to your hearts, and love them as only Salvationists know how to do. There is only one way you can be defeated at all, and we throw up the danger signal. Lose your touch with God, and all is over as far as you are concerned. Keep in touch with Him, and all is well. Do you think our Army will ever be defeated? Never! We have only to keep on the real old track, and live out its principles, teach faithfully its doctrines and inculcate its spirit into every-body we can, and then the devil may look out. We shall be on our way to Australia by the time this reaches you, and soon many miles will separate us, and yet how near we are to each many muces with separate us, and yet now near we are to death other kneeling at the same Throne, getting our supplies from the same source, just simply this difference: the Lord will drop our supplies of blessings down for the next few years on the Australian side of the Throne of Grace instead of the Canadian side of it. It is merely a difference of sides, but the same Throng. Be true to your God, the General, Commissioner and Staff, and each other, and while we stand no longer as your Canadian leaders, we are still your comrades in the Blood-
